

THE BRAVE LITTLE SEED

fairytoons.com

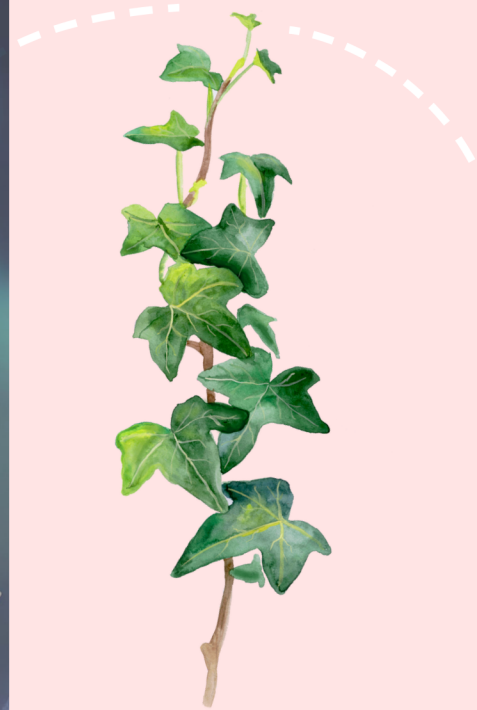

In a big field with lots of colorful flowers and tall trees, there was a small seed named Sam.

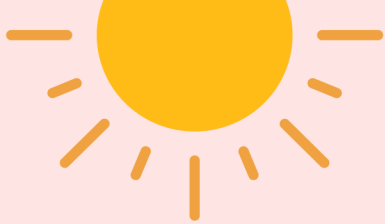

Sam wanted to grow into a beautiful flower and make everyone happy with its pretty colors.

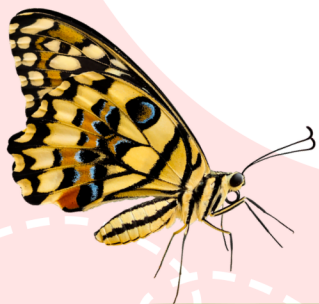

But Sam couldn't grow like the other plants around it. It felt stuck and couldn't break out of its shell.

One day, a gentle wind whispered to Sam, telling it to believe in itself and keep trying.

Encouraged by the wind,
Sam pushed and pushed until its shell cracked open.

Even though Sam was small, it didn't give up. It kept growing, soaking up the sun and drinking the rain.

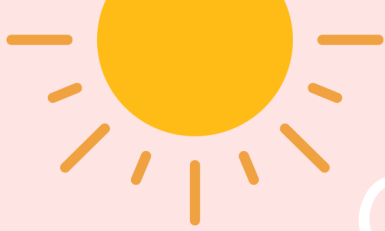

With time, Sam became a beautiful flower with bright colors.

Other plants were amazed at Sam's transformation and saw it as a sign of bravery and never giving up.

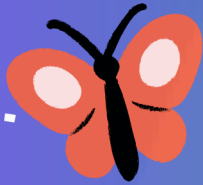

Moral of the Story

Sam's story taught everyone in the field that

No matter how small you are, if you believe in yourself and keep trying, you can achieve great things.
